Prisma Puzzle Timer is a program that enables users to simultaneously complete multiple Rubik's cube.The present invention relates to a power-generating unit mounted on a vehicle, such as a forklift, for charging a battery mounted on the vehicle, which is driven by a motor, and the charging of the battery. There is known a power-generating unit, including a motor that is driven by the output of an alternator or another motor and generates power, a generator having a rotor rotated by the motor, and a plurality of power storage batteries connected to the generator and charged by the power generated by the generator. The generator connected to the alternator and the generator connected to the motor are arranged in parallel with each other. The power from the power storage batteries is supplied to the motor in parallel, and is used as electric power for running the motor, which drives the alternator. The power-generating unit described above is mounted on a vehicle, such as a forklift. There is also known a device for supplying power to a vehicle for vehicle-mounted use, which includes a power storage battery for storing electric power, a device drive motor for driving the device, and an electrical load drive motor for driving the electrical load. The load drive motor is driven by electric power supplied from the power storage battery, and the power supply to the power storage battery is controlled based on the electric power consumed by the device drive motor. The above-described power-generating unit and the device for supplying power to a vehicle are separately developed, and are difficult to be integrated and manufactured. Accordingly, the power storage batteries and the power generation drive unit are separately mounted on the vehicle, and this is disadvantageous in
