Classic game "Tobefet" has been chosen as the official tournament game at the Bar Sinister 2017 in London. The standard rules (English and Russian) as well as the rules of each of the groups participating in the tournament, special rules for the English and French groups, are published in this publication. On April 21, London Bartenders Guild will hold the contest "Bar Sinister 2017" dedicated to the 10th anniversary of the famous game of the same name. At the event will be held the international tournament "Bar Sinister 2016", which will be a part of the European championship of the tournament "Bar Sinister 2018". The main idea of this tournament was to hold an international tournament of Bartenders with the participation of representatives of different countries, especially Belarus, Great Britain, Germany, and Italy. It is the sixth year that the award for the best classic Bartenders is on the agenda. To this end, Russian and English dictionaries of the Bartenders will be distributed to the participants. The program of the tournament will be held on April 21. Tournaments is proposed, along with more than 50 prizes. There is a challenge of individual players to collect additional prizes (18 of them) in a series of tournaments. For a complete list of tournaments, please contact the organizers. Tournament Program Group stages: The tournament will consist of four preliminary stages and a final stage. On April 21 and April 22, four matches will be held in group stages with three teams each. The winners of each group will play a semifinal on April 23. The remaining two teams will go into a final. Group 1: "Frenzy" vs "Savage Battle" Group 2: "Lemming Hunt" vs "Invisible" Group 3: "Smashed Face" vs "We Are Two." Group 4: "Dwarf" vs "Cannibal" Semifinals: April 23: The winner of Group 1 and the runner-up of Group 2 will play a semifinal on April 23. Semifinal: April 23: The winners of Groups 1 and 2 will play the final of the tournament. The winners of the three groups will receive the following rewards: Group 1: "You are a madman" vs "We should invite more people" Group 2: "We need to make

What's new:

The Technotron Defense () or Technotron Laser Defense is an umbrella term that refers to one or more Chinese laser weapon systems. All or some of these fire laser weapons for the purposes of atmospheric laser defense. The term is a combination of the Chinese characters for "weapon" (dao) and "technology" (diào). Technotron initially referred to a specific Chinese laser weapons system, sometimes nicknamed Photon Torpedo (), under a program established in the mid-1990s to develop a new-generation antiaircraft weapon. This program's progress was highlighted in March 2011, when a "final operational capability" version of the weapon was assembled and deployed for the first time. More recently, the Chinese military began referring to the weapon as the "Horizon-era" (, Yuan-qian) laser weapon system. So far, there has been no conclusive evidence that any existing anti-aircraft laser system is capable of decimating an enemy threat. Questions remain as to whether the existing systems are capable of delivering specific warheads at realistic laser energy levels, both at very short ranges where destruction of a moving airborne target might be possible, as well as at greater ranges where the laser system would be required to track multiple targets over a long period of time. In November 2019, during the 2019 Shangdu naval exercises, the first airborne laser system was deployed by a swarm of drones at a low altitude. China claimed the defenses were able to destroy multiple cruise missiles as they were launched while still in the air. In June 2018, the U.S. military issued a report detailing the "significant threat" posed to U.S. warships by high-powered lasers deployed by China that it called "unmanned, robotic, highly maneuverable, directed-energy weapon systems that are capable of engaging U.S. warships" and advised that "time is of the essence" for the United States to investigate and develop countermeasures. On 26 August 2018, the U.S. Defense Department announced that it had awarded the first Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency Airborne Laser (DARPA AL) program contract for a 120kW laser mounted to an aerostat. The United States Air Force is concurrently conducting a 300 million USD feasibility study to determine the viability of an airborne laser system. History First mention Chinese media first published reports of the anti-aircraft laser in November 1992, when the China Academy of Engineering Physics (CAEP) and the China Institute

The story of the Series: When peace was descending, on the battlefield of the Great War, the war of the tank appeared. With modern technologies, the warfare that has long been confined to the ground began to move through the air. The two major powers had their own tanks. As for the German giant Panther tank and the British Rolls-Royce, one used the latest technologies of a tank, the other brought a new type of industrial technology. The Titan is a product of both technologies. The Titan is a self-propelled gun, which can move on land or air, with its own tank. The "Tiger Tank 59" is a tank for the Cold War period, which used the best of European and American technologies. From the lands of the Cold War. Features: 1. Large no. of weapons. 2. Easy to play but hard to master. 3. Call of Duty series engine. 4. Cinematic movies. 5. Top-down shooting gameplay. I am trying to create a user-defined-size table, or in other words: a dynamic table. Basically, I want to call a function in JScript and have the function perform a drawing process on a table in my AS3 application. The user can set the size of the table to be whatever he wants. Here are my four attempts so far: var rTable = new Array(); var rTableSize = 9; function writeTable(x, y, width, height, depth) { rTable = new Array(y); for (var r = 0; r
