Actually, one of the main benefits of the new interface is that it has completely dropped the legacy interface of previous versions of Catia, which was so old and slow, both from a visual point of view and operation, that is was impossible to use. We're super excited to get our hands on this new software version and as always, we'll make sure you're the first to see and hear about it. The reason for this statement is that we want to let you all know that as a regular reader of this blog you can expect to see this Catia V5 software version just as soon as they are ready for you. And as before, we have already spent a few days with the software, and you can see that we are highly impressed by it. So far, all that we've seen is that the new interface has been completely redesigned and is simply modern and beautiful, and the appearance of the interface is as good as can be expected for a new or relatively new version of a software program. It is much easier to navigate through the menus and the layers, and the graphics are a pleasure to look at. There are also many more choices to customize and to optimize your work and create better designs. the new interface is even compatible with the new Catia V5 cloud-based version. Also, it is really very easy to download and install the software patches from within the software itself, without having to use a separate application to do it.
